After a brief debate to-day, the Prussian Chamber of Deputies sent back the Army Increase Bill to a special Committee.

ARGENTINE VOLUNTEERS

If Tiro Nacionalism is to become a permanent institution in the River Plate, then the sooner its committee of management reforms its organization the better: since it must strike every Argentine who has read the article in the Republica on Tuesday morning, that there is a point and a truth in our colleague's remarks which the Tiro Nacionales themselves are bound to answer.

The very objectionable names which these Tiro regiments have assumed should be abolished; and, as the writer in the Republica very properly remarks, thousands and ing, and next morning we visited tens of thousands of English Tiro Nacionales that he saw at Wimbledon were all ranked under the title of Volunteers, so also the volunteers in this country should have no other title than that of Tiro Nacional.

One of the greatest impeachments made against these Argentine Volunteers is that their banner is purely party strife, without the slightest tinge of patriotism; and in proof of this it is stated that, when, at the end of the year 1878, this country was exposed to the great danger of a war with Chile, an effort was then made to start some Tiro Nacional regiments, and only thirty-six volunteers answered to the patriotic call for the defence of their country: whilst a year later, when a purely party call is made to rank Argentines against Argentines, from two to three thousand of the young men of the city were at once brigaded, and what is termed the 'patria chica' armed to fight the 'patria grande.'

The true friends of River Plate liberties will not agree with the Republica in its new doctrine that out of the evil of this Tiro Nacionalism will come much good: on the contrary, the organization of these volunteers is as objectionable in name as it is defective in form; and nothing good can come out of a movement that is destined to turn the whole River Plate into a 'campamento militar.' Every province in the Confederation is to-day arming under the name of Tiro Nacional. The country towns in this province are following suit, and volunteer regiments are springing up much faster than the funds can be gathered to supply them with arms.

Men of large, comprehensive views, such as Rawson, Carril, Mitre, Alberdi, Sarmiento, Frias, Irigoyen, and scores of others, must see as clear as the sun at noon-day what all this Tiro Nacionalism points to; and if the youth and energy of the country are to be pressed into this service, the sooner its objectionable features are removed the better. If every man and boy is to serve in the Tiro Nacional regiments, great as is the political error that fosters the movement, still greater is the blunder to allow these regiments to assume sectional names and party-colored banners. As at Wimbledon, so also should it be at Buenos Ayres, at Santa Fe, at Cordoba, at Jujuy—all should be enrolled under the name of 'Volunteers,' and all should have one flag, that of the Nation. There should be no Resistance regiment, or 'Patria Chica' regiment, and the trim jacket of the Tiro Nacional should cover no hostile feelings or sentiments which, in the language of Lord Beaconsfield, are termed 'veiled sedition.'

If the Tiro Nacional organization is carried out in the other provinces with the same 'verve' as in this, before a year is about the Argentine Republic will become such a nation of sharpshooters as to menace the equilibrium of South America. But the sharp double-edged point of the Republica's remark, that when the country was in danger of foreign war but 36 Tiro Nacionales could be found to enrol themselves in this city, cuts very deep at the roots of the principles which have led to the present movement: and the day may yet come when Argentines will admit, and history prove, that the greatest curse that ever befell this country was the importation of the Remington, the greatest political blunder our public men ever perpetrated—the Tiro Nacional organisation. We remind our colleague that if at times out of evil comes good, out of political error, since the world began, comes the most inevitable retribution.

WANDERINGS IN EUROPE.
(By a Young Argentine.)

Marseilles.—I arrived here on Sunday, and remained three days to visit the town. As I was breakfasting in the hotel Mr E. Funes visited me, and we both set out to view the city. Marseilles struck me essentially as a 'ville de province,' and the inhabitants bear the stamp of the artisan and the sailor. Quite fresh from the Parisian boulevards, where the pink of fashion lives on the pavé, it had this effect. The Botanical Gardens boast a waterfall, tastefully surrounded by a Corinthian architecture. The water gracefully falls from a height of 15 metres. Neptune, surrounded by four huge bulls, lends a mythological aspect to modern art; on the sides are the museums of natural history and fine arts, the latter revealing the Grecian tastes the Provenceaux inherited from their ancestors. There is a quaint collection of stuffed birds and animals. A very pretty panorama meets the eye behind the main building, where all the gardens are displayed. The gardens are separated by a slight eminence, forming a miniature valley, all arranged with consummate taste. The zoological department comprises animals from all quarters of the globe—the giraffes struck me most; these animals are alpacas on a larger scale. Their immense necks, long fore legs and beautiful hide, are the main points which attract notice. We saw Lecocq's Giroffe-Girofla at the Gymnase Theatre in the evening, and next morning we visited the new harbour Toliette, which is said to be the finest in France.

Great works are being carried on here; at present a pier is being built projecting into the Mediterranean, protected by a large wall 12 feet above the water level. The largest vessels moor alongside these stupendous earth-works. The length of this pier must certainly be fully two miles, and it is well protected on the western side by a successive series of breakwaters. Millions have been spent in these great works. The protecting wall is similar to that of our Penitentiary, only higher and wider. A visit to the Iffe Castle reminded one of Monte Cristo prisoner in the place, as described by Alexander Dumas. Out of curiosity I visited the prison cell; it is really imposing to see the work of ages, how the steps of the large stairs have been trodden away by the foot of man and the walls and apartments bear the stamp of times bygone. The same features struck me in Paris, when visiting Notre Dame and La Sainte Chapelle. My imagination always lingers in Paris, but my will impels me towards Nice.

I arrived in Nice at 4 p.m. The town is picturesque, and situated at the foot of the Maritime Alps. The place, owing to its proximity to Switzerland, physically bears the aspect of that country. The mountains, as placed by the kindly hand of Nature, protect the town from the chilly winds of the North. There is a delightful 'paseo' called La Promenade Anglaise; both sides of the promenade are charming. On the left a series of villas, on the right the Mediterranean. The villas are our quintas, only that here the houses join each other, with a small garden in front and behind. Hundreds of carriages drive on the road, and the English type in both horses, coachmen and persons predominates.

From here to Monte Carlo or Monaco is an hour's drive. Monte Carlo is the temple of gamblers; 'roulette' and 'trente-et-un' reign supreme. The 'trente et quarante' is so complicated that I could not find out the intricacies of the game; the stake may not be under a twenty-franc piece. Most of the gamblers are Englishmen.

The French language predominates in Monaco, but the peasants speak the same 'patois' as in the days of Julius Cæsar. The Monte Carlo gambling temple is a monument; it consists of a theatre, lecture-room, 'salon de pas-perdus' or foyer, and a gambling department of two saloons; there are also 'boudoirs.' There is no restaurant in the place, for many motives. The man who built this edifice was also the architect of the Grand Opera in Paris. The building was completed in 17 months; by night the workmen had the electric light. The place cost 80,000,000 francs. The theatre is a parterre, crowned with four boxes, reserved for royal heads. The saloon is constructed with admirable taste, and is still more gaudy than the Paris Opera; frescoes and sculptures from the greatest artists meet the gaze everywhere. I had the pleasure of hearing here the Bianca Doncidio, Patti's rival; this actress enjoys 10,000 francs per night. The seats and tickets are not sold in this theatre; they are given away. Mr. F. Virit favoured me twice with tickets to this theatre. The foyer is one blaze of splendour and art; paintings, frescoes, sculpture, marble, gold, all has been lavished on this gem of a building. The gambling hall is also very fine, and only foreigners are allowed in the hallowed precincts.

LIVE CATTLE EXPORT.

To the Editor of the Standard
Sir

Enclosed I send you a paper giving some information anent shipping of live cattle from America to England.

You will see that the weights are pretty heavy and quite beyond what we could send from here for some time to come, in any quantities at least. We have the pull in price however as, there is a margin between £16 and $1000 m|c or say £7, a figure which would pay us very well here for beasts weighing 1400 lbs.

Your obedient servant
An Estanciero
B. Aires, March 2d.

"Knowing that many of you are interested in or affected by the importation of live stock from America I did not consider it out of my province to visit Chicago markets, the largest in the world. I accordingly spent most of two days at the Union Stock Yards, where there is a daily market, the weekly supplies being about 20,000 cattle, 8000 to 12,000 sheep, and 20,000 to 190,000 pigs, according to season. These yards cover 300 acres. The sheep and hog pens are covered, and ample provision made for feeding and watering the stock. In the centre stands the Live Stock Exchange, where 200 agents and dealers have their offices—in addition to banks, telegraph offices, &c. All the stock is sold at so much per 100 lbs. live weight, and scales capable of weighing 30 to 40 cattle at once and up to 100,000 lbs. gross weight are conveniently placed. Buyers and salesmen were riding and driving about, and cow-boys on ponies, with long whips, were driving lots of Texas or other western cattle to the pens or weighing scales. The prices varied according to weight and condition. A lot of heavy steers for shipping to England weighing about 1600 lbs each were sold for $4.90 per 100 lbs., or barely 2½d per lb. The nicest lot we saw were some 40 steers fat and generally well bred, which we estimated at 50 stone each, they were sold at $4 35 per 100, and turned out very near our estimate, they were 1400 lbs live weight and considered too small for shipping alive. A lot of third grade steers about 1200 lbs each sold for $4 per 100; we called them 43 stone and valued them at £17 in our market. Third grade butchers cows and heifers 950, lbs live weight were worth $3 per 100, value as stores here about £13. We saw large lots of Texas or native cattle worth from 2.75 dols. to 3.25 for canning purposes, they are a very rough badly bred class with too much bone and horn, but they kill better than they look.

"We saw very few store cattle which would be suitable for export: a few worth $30 each we valued at £12 here, and stirks worth $19 we valued at £7 here. In making these comparisons I was guided by the knowledge of the state of the markets here. The proportion of cattle which we saw fit for our market was small, probably not more than 20 p. cent of the whole, and of these a considerable proportion were under 1600 lbs., which is the standard weight for shipping alive. We were told, however, that at that season the market was always bare of good cattle—as great numbers of Texan and other inferior cattle were coming in, and feeders of good cattle were holding back their stock till these western cattle stopped coming, which they would do on the first fall of snow. We met some of the largest men in the trade, and were told that a great deal of money had been lost on shipping live cattle—principally by men of capital who were not acquainted with the trade, who had rushed into it; they had made money in early summer but were now (October) fulfilling their contracts with the steamship companies at a loss. They said that by and bye we would have a steady but not excessive supply, as they could not afford to glut our markets. Some were of opinion that the most legitimate development of the trade would be in the exportation of more dead meat.

"One of the largest men of the trade is Nelson Morris, who feeds 4000 cattle a year, he had a large number feeding at a distillery receiving 1 bush draff each per day, for which he paid 3 cents, he had also a contract for grazing 1000 cattle at 1 dol. per head per month, these are considered low prices. Morris had lost money on shipping live cattle. We visited his establishment, where they kill 850 cattle daily, chiefly for the large beef packing establishment of Libby, M'Neil and Libby; 150 men are employed at wages of 6s to 16s per day, and the work goes on rapidly—each bullock being finished off in about 12 minutes. The cattle are killed by severing the spinal cord with a spear, which seems to destroy all sensation.

"We also visited Amour's pork packing establishment, the largest in Chicago, where they pack a million hogs annually, and employ in winter 2500 to 2800 men. When we were there they were killing 12 pigs a minute; just now they will be doing 24. We saw a man bleed six in a minute, and another disemboweled three in the same time. The system and arrangement is very good, and we literally saw pigs going into one part of the establishment and sausages coming out at another. As this is only one of the many similar places in Chicago, Indianopolis, Cincinnati, and other cities, you can hardly form an idea of the magnitude of this trade. Armour also kills about 8000 cattle a year, chiefly for packing as mess beef. We also visited a monster beef packing establishment where they cut up from 800 to 1000 cattle per day. We were not shown the most important apartments, but we understand that the coarser parts are canned, the middle qualities packed as mess beef for shipping, and lumbering trades, and the choicer cuts, ribs, and loins sold fresh to different parts of the States. We did not see any store cattle that would pay for exporting to England, as only the best and heaviest cattle would leave a profit at present rates. The cost of sending such cattle from Chicago to England being about £8 a head. We visited some of the largest Chicago elevators which have great facilities for handling and storing grain. In America grain is all handled in bulk after it is emptied from the farmer's sacks. In one elevator we saw they can unload seven waggons at once, weighing and storing the grain in bins according to kind and quality. Each of the seven cars would contain from 350 to 400 bushels, and is emptied by two men in fifteen minutes. Three lines of rails run under the building, two for unloading and one for loading waggons. Vessels could also go alongside to load or discharge. At another elevator we saw a steamer loading Indian corn, a stream nearly sufficient to drive a thrashing mill was pouring into each of three hatches, and the cargo of 900 tons would be loaded in five hours.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.
(Our own Correspondent.)

March 1st. 1880.

I was speaking in my last about the Leones Island when interrupted by the necessity of posting my letter. The Leones Island was first inhabited within record by colonists sent from here by our late lamented old friend Samuel F. Lafone, one of our most enterprising men, who died of cholera in Buenos Ayres years ago. Many and many cargoes of guano found their way to England and elsewhere ere the Johnny Crapeaubs ever heard of such an island being in this hemisphere. If I am not mistaken our good friend Mr. Robert Littlejohn knows more about the Leones island than any Frenchman within hail. Some French sailors or diggers who had been employed there, seeing the place alone, took to working the guano diggings, and now claim to be proprietors.

We have been favoured by plentiful showers of rain throughout most part of the country, and our maize crops are doing well, as also the general interests. We shall have another splendid year for sheep-farming, and we richly deserve it. Cattle are also thriving well, and I suppose the 'saladeros' will be able to get good fat 'novillos' for the end of the year's slaughter. We only want peace outside to lead us fast out of the troubles of the crisis. The country has now been in peace for four years, and the cattle and sheepfarmers are getting rich, and no doubt this will ultimately have its effect in the capital. Sheep are gradually being enhanced in price, and cattle the same, and land is every day becoming dearer and scarce. This shows well and proves what I say. Gentlemen about town are getting fidgetty about means of living, which are every day becoming scantier, and the attention of the most enterprising is now directed towards the country outside, and some few are starting new farms and taking to digging as a means of getting along. This is a good thing, and the crisis, if nothing more, has at least the effect of directing attention to cultivation. Hard times beget industry, which is much wanted in a country which has to import potatoes and butter for its consumption, when such fine fields as we have are laying waste, and only used as pasture grounds. I know of a young friend of mine, a native, who has taken to dairy farming and started with his family to make cheese and butter, rearing pigs and fowls and so forth, and I sincerely applaud him for his energy. We want much such stuff as is in him.

I see it mentioned in a telegram that the Christmas lottery has at last turned up, and has been won by the Hospital and charity institutions. This is a very fortunate circumstance, as no less than seven charitable institutions are supported by the lottery, among which, the Hospital, the asylums for lunatics, infant abandoned children, and paupers—four very well conducted institutions, most of which have buildings lately built or rebuilt on a very extensive scale, and managed by citizens appointed by the Government. Besides these, there are what are called 'motherly asylums' for young children of from two to seven years old, where their poor parents send them to be educated and fed during the day, and taken away in the evening, so as to enable the said parents to go out to work. I am not a supporter of lottery playing, but when its proceeds are thus usefully employed, there is a certain excuse for it besides; the old habit of playing is very difficult to get rid of. I am not very certain, but I think the 'Taller Nacional' or Workhouse is also supported by the proceeds of the lottery. In most of these institutions boys and girls of a proper age are made to learn a trade, to do the work of the house in cooking, washing ironing, 'making the rooms' and making their own clothes and shoes, and I presume there are no less than from 2,000 to 2,500 attended to in this way, boys and adults all told, in the sick bed and in the toils of a trade. The Hospital is a really magnificent building, and every year a new section is added to it, and now it occupies a great portion of the block upon which it is built; the new Lunatic Asylum is now nearly ready and I am told it is a very extensive and efficient building, situated on the outskirts of the town; and as for the Asylum of Paupers in the Union, all I can say is that it is far superior to the new Government House, let alone the old 'fuerte' which, as you know, is a very old tumble-down fabric of the Spaniards, patched up by the Portuguese or the Brazilians, when they held the country, and the Hospital, the Paupers' Asylum, the Infant Asylum, the Lunatic Asylum, the 'Taller Nacional,' and the 'Artes y Oficios' buildings, are more or less palaces in comparison to the old Government House, and this is creditable.

A Dull Headache, Costiveness, Low Spirits, and No Appetite, are some of the indications of a Bilious Attack, arising from a Torpid Liver. Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills will soon restore the Liver to action, drive all symptoms of biliousness from the system, and assist in bringing about a regular action of the bowels.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

From bad to worse! Our colleague La Pampa sounds a vigorous note of alarm about the latest and worst effect of the political rumpus which has turned the Rural Police (such as they are) into drilled soldiers and taken them from their legitimate duties. The camp robbers have found out that the most profitable thing they can steal is the wire fencing of the estancias!! The wire is cut in several places, five or six squares apart: the robbers then attach the ends to the 'cinchas' of their horses, pull the wire through the holdfasts and gallop off with it, to sell it to 'pulperos' or pedlars in some distant partido. Some estancieros have lost over 3,000 yards of wire in a single night. This is most serious news, and we presume Governor Tejedor and his Ministers will not lose an hour in taking steps to cut short an abuse that will defeat all progress in our camps, if allowed to continue.

Letters by the Maskelyne announce the death of Her Serene Highness Marie Louise Christine, Princess Ernest Alexandre de Looz-Corswarem, née Princess de Godoy, Madm. Ricarde Seaver, wife of Major Rickard Seaver, formerly well-known in B. Aires.

We had the pleasure yesterday of receiving a letter from Mr John Rorke, who is so well and favourably known in the commercial circles of this city: His numerous friends will be glad to learn that he expects to be here again about the end of this month.

The latest Conundrum received at the Standard office up to bed hour yesterday is:—

"What is the plural of two?"

We have been requested to inform our readers of sporting proclivities that a match has been arranged between Mr. Nougier's br. h. Covenanter and Mr. Anderson's b. h. Townhill. The race will come off on Thursday, 18th inst., on the Lanus Race Course, at 4.30 p.m. The distance, 1½ round, for $40,000 a side.

A subscriber whose statements we have a great respect for informed us yesterday that the Parsee banker Hormanjee, of Bombay, who gave the munificent donation of £1,000 to the Irish Relief Fund is no more a Parsee than Dan O'Connell was, but a Tipperary man named Horace Mangan, who emigrated 50 years ago, when only 16 years of age, to India, where he has made an enormous fortune. Nothing more probable: but be he Parsee or Patlander, his heart is evidently in the right place, and long life to him!

Accident alone prevented us from saluting our esteemed contemporary the Operario Italiano on the completion of its eighth year, on Monday last. We now cordially do so. In ability of direction and graphic and spirited writing, the Operario is 'second to none.'

We are most happy to announce that the esteemed Lord Mayor of Buenos Ayres, Mr. Guerrico, is rapidly recovering from his recent illness, during which he completely lost his voice for some days.

Scotch Presbyterian Church Services will be held at the estancia Santa Elena, Mr. J. Bell's, on Sunday, 7th inst.; at Ranchos Railway Station, Mr. W. Moore's, on Monday 8th, and at the estancia Salado, Mr. P. Campbell's on Sunday, 21st inst.

The Patria Argeatina announces another Devonshire business, off Santa Cruz, where two Chilian ironclads are said to have captured some vessels loading guano. The captain of an American ship which has just arrived at Montevideo is given as the author of the news, which nobody believes.

Advices from Montevideo report all quiet there and in all the departments, so we suppose the patriots over there have thought better of it. A tramway guard was robbed of 500 pats a few days ago: one of the horses fell, and while he was assisting the driver to get the brute on his legs again, the 'plata' disappeared, and the thief also.

The telegrams from Mr. Moreno, the distinguished explorer, show what a narrow escape he had from the Indians. King Shaun O'Kay ordered him to be disembowelled alive and his heart to be cut out and offered as a sacrifice. Not considering that these operations would conduce to his personal comfort or the elevation of the tone of Science, Mr. M. bolted 'right off,' and after six days' perils by road and river reached a place of safety,

The change in the Bolsa hours has given general satisfaction. Merchants will now have time to cultivate a little additional domesticity, take a stroll in the garden with their families before dinner, visit the Flower Show, and do sundry other things more conducive to health and happiness than mooning about the musty Bolsa looking for news, at an hour when they ought to be amusing themselves as the merchants at Havre do, and unbending from the cares of the day. The effect of the new Reglamento is more apparent in Garcia, the Bolsa porter, (the oldest man in town) than in any other Bolsa frequenter. The veteran porter looks 20 years younger since Tuesday evening.

The sporting world is preparing for the coming fun at Navarro on the 7th and 16th. Weather and politics permitting, a strong meet may be expected.

The letter from Marseilles in our last issue, by a young Argentine, attracted much favorable attention. The author, who has not yet concluded his course at the University here, is not yet out of his teens, and is spending his vacation in Europe. He certainly promises well; he is a most keen observer and writes 'currente calamo.' We see a future compeer of Miguel Canè in this clever Argentine youth. We publish another of his letters to-day.

We hear that the most fashionable garments now are the Marie Antonette gown and the King of Rome collar. If it were to save our life or double our subscriber list, we could not explain what either of them are like. A colleague says that the M. A. is most outrageously dear, which is an immense advantage—to the dressmakers.

The recent rain has been pretty general in the camp districts, but more is required.

There are rumours of revolution in half a dozen provinces, but they amount to little. A peculiarity of the recent shindy in Cordoba is that of the 7 killed and 15 wounded n that Homeric combat, not one was a native of Cordoba or known in the place. 'Verb sap.'

The new Mint will be inaugurated in the merry month of May.

The Bread squeeze in Rosario is over. The bakers on strike have returned to work, and there is an appalling let down in the biscuit market up there.

The Correo del Domingo gives a very good portrait of the late Dr. Velez Sarsfield in its last number. The reading matter is also well up to the usual standard of this high-toned magazine.

The Heraldo of Tuesday gives a capital wood cut likeness of the Governor of the Province, Dr. Tejedor with a short biographical sketch of this distinguished Argentine.

The America del Sur published yesterday four columns of the text of the fervent sermon delivered on Sunday last at the Cathedral by the distinguished Jesuit preacher Father Jordan. We never heard such an eloquent sermon. When the eloquent preacher advised all to have patience with and be indulgent to scoffers at Christianity and religion, as they were the fathers, brothers, sons and husbands of those who listened to him, the effect on the congregation was wonderful, and we saw old and young men, old and young women, persons in the highest and the humblest walks of life, all weeping. Such is the irresistible power of the pulpit in worthy hands.

A Montevidean correspondent calls loudly for Lottery reform, at least in the small Drawings, the chief prize to be smaller and the difference going to make up a larger number of prizes. Many people who buy tickets never dream of the big prize and are happy when they win 30 or 50 pats. We approve of the suggested reform, but after the very ugly disclosures about the Christmas Eve Caridad Drawing, the public here will be extremely shy of all Montevidean lotteries. The explanation published by the Administracion made matters ten times worse than they were.

The luck of the School Board in winning the 300,000$ m/c. prize in the Popular Drawing is much commented on, the general impression in town being that the Board was chronically 'hard up' and without enough R.M.D. to buy a 'cedulilla;' much less Popular Bonds. It appears, however, that the general impression was a wrong one. The Board got the Bonds in payment from Government.

The papers announce that three of the Congo's passengers died a 'natural death' on the voyage. We suppose this is meant to convey that they did not die of yellow fever. It's a queer way of putting it.

The Montevideans are in estacies with the New Fluviales steamer the Cosmos: they say they never saw such a 'beauty' before.

Dr. Irigoyen will be proclaimed as a Presidential candidate next Sunday at the Variedades Theatre. The Doctor's party gains strength every day. One of our morning colleagues prognosticates very important changes in the National Cabinet before a week is about.

Duelling is spreading to the lower orders. A vigilante and 'individuo' fought one about a lady on Sunday evening, and the peace officer had to be carried from the field of honour for repairs.

A pickpocket on the mole selected a recently arrived emigrant as a victim on Monday, but he caught a Tartar. Just as the 'Caco' was fingering his purse the new arrival caught him by the nape of the neck, kicked him till he was tired, and then handed him over half dead to the custody of a Capitania sailor. Ha! Ha! Take that.

28th Feb., 1880.

To the Right Hon. Edward Dwyer Gray, Lord Mayor of Dublin.

My Lord Mayor,

Adverting to our letter of the 18th inst., we now beg to hand you herewith, another Bill of Exchange for £1,000 (One Thousand Pounds sterling) the second instalment of subscriptions collected here, for the relief of the distressed poor n Ireland.

In requesting you to hand this amount to the Mansion House Committee, we beg to express the wish of many of the subscribers here, that these sums be distributed where most needed, with as little delay as may be compatible with the onerous labours of the Committee, in such manner as will best secure the prompt relief of those requiring it, without the necessity of any elaborate intermediate agency.

We remain,
Your Lordship's most obdt. servants,
(Signed)
Michael Carroll,
Edward Casey,
Trustees of the Funds.

The new Reglamento closed the ring to-day half an hour before the usual hour, which is a great convenience to Montevideo, as the Bolsa closing down there earlier than here, merchants were always kept waiting down there to know the closing price of gold; now the hours of both Bolsas more assimilate.

Gold opened at 30.35 and dropped all day closing at 30.25, but even this figure was not maintainable, as before 2 o'clock sellers were offering for Saturday at 30.20 and no buyers. The gold market never ruled flatter, and the attempt to stiffen prices by the bola in the Patria Argentina, as in all cases of bola, produced exactly the contrary effect.

The gold sales, although the business time of the ring is now shortened half an hour, proved larger than usual, and several parties who were buyers yesterday sold heavily today. The sales for Saturday reach 305,500. Such a large amount for a date so near shows how tremendously gold is weighing on the market. The sales for end of month were 575,000; also very heavy total sales of day, 1,133,924 pats.

Cedulas gave way a little, possibly on the yesterday rumour that the Municipality was about to take out one million of Cedulas on two markets and two streets. Prices for cash and end of month 84.

Treasury notes have advanced to 78½ for end of March.

The news from the National Government House of the business negotiated in London by Dr Plaza for the purchase of the materials for the extension of the Tucuman and Mendoza Railway is most favorable. The Government has arranged everything for 100 kilometers each line, but the price of rail has so much advanced in England, that the rails can now only be had at £ 1.10 to £12 per ton.

Owing to the great interest taken here in the Liverpool election, we may say that, when the Maskelyne reached Lisbon, the British Consul there had a telegram that the Tory candidate, Mr Whibley, had won. As nearly all the shipbrokers here are Tories, the defeat of Lord Ramsay will be well received by some.

We regret to announce a sad accident to Mr Torrome when crossing the Andes; his saddle girths broke, and he tumbled from the mule, receiving great injury. He was carried to a house on a litter, and at latest dates was rapidly coming round.

Letters from London state that Mr Barron will leave for Rosario in about a month. The port question is again talked of in London, and many other River Plate matters. Argentine affairs are looked on more favorably now than last year, and any good scheme could easily be floated.

As there are many shareholder on the Bolsa of the Flores Road Company, we may state that at last that Company is out of debt, having paid off everything last month, and closed some old pending lawsuits. The shares may now be regarded as good property, and the road under the excellent management of Mr Lumas is certain at last to pay handsome dividends to the shareholders.

It was said on 'Change that up to noon today the dismissal of the several officers from the army asked for by the officers in question, although signed, had not been given round.

The sale of the house in Calle Cordoba No. 581 for 170,000 m/c. is reported; also the sale of a graseria No. 1,365-67 Venezuela by the Mortgage Bank for $62,000 m/c. Mr Angel Felippi buyer.

The Congo only brought in specie 3,000 francs gold.

The Minister ordered yesterday the payment of 96,6.6 fuertes to the forces on Rio Negro for pay July and August last. It seems that the Rio Negro frontier still costs money.

The latest news in the market about wheat is that according to the Provincial Bank statistics there is enough wheat in the country to supply 12½ lbs. flour to every inhabitant of the provinces B. Aires, Entre Rios, Santa Fe and Corrientes; all the rest must depend on maize. Wheat is now selling in Rosario 25 per cent dearer than in London; this can't hold long.

There will be nothing now done about the new Directors on the Western Railway until after May 1st.

The gold sales were:—

For cash 81,670 30.35-30-25
For March 6th 4,824 30.30
For March 6th 305,500 30.40-35-30-25

The receipts of the Custom House of Buenos Aires in the month of February amounted to $61,195,819, which is indeed splendid, and we note in the account of the Treasury for Feb. that the Government began the month of March with the rather large cash balance on hand of $1,1,307,370; with such figures it is not surprising Treasury Notes should be at 78; the wonder is that all Nat. stocks are not ten per cent higher.

There was a large attendance of English buyers at Bullrich's to-day and Mess Tweedie's books sold well; many of Mr Tweedie's books which people expected to find were not there.

Gold at afterhours dropped still further, 10,000 for to-morrow sold at 30.15, and then 15,000 sold at same figure. The liquidation room was very crowded, and it cost a good deal to enforce the new rule and shut the doors at 4 o'clock, but it was done, and the whole market recognized the improvement.

Exchange rules flat, the Prov. Bank it seems took pretty freely, and bills on Paris were done at 5.28-29, on London 50.

The sales of wool in deposit were the talk of Change—

30,000 arr. sold from Unzue deposits, South, Messrs Maderna and Braun buyers, all in this deposit sold.

6,000 arr. in deposit, Tuyu wool, put in at 96, sold to-day at 105 with carretilla.

"Licenses at $31, and posts at $10½ m/c and 14 m/c each, half posts.

"Monday rained, Tuesday fine day, attendance regular.

"100,000 sheep for sale this month at auction at Gorostiaga's, Gannon's, Chivilcoy Rojas, &c., otherwise higher prices and more interest."

Mr P Christopherson leaves for Europe in his own steamer the Pampa; she takes one of the most splendid cargoes that ever left the Plate:—

4,000 bales wool
4,000 dry hides
2,000 salted hides
1,000 bags charcoal.

The Custom House receipts to-day were 64,066 pats.

All our letters and advices received from Europe speak favorably of the River Plate; the bears in London have tried hard to persuade bondholders that the Republic was going to war with Chile, but the following traffic returns published in the London papers show Englishmen how this country thrives, and silences all the bolas got up on the Stock Exchange:—

"Buenos Aires Great Southern.—The traffic receipts for the week ending Dec. 14th, 1879, amounted to £11,612 against £9,867 for the same week in 1878; increase £1,765. The aggregate receipts from January 1st, 1879, to date, £174,207 against £339,477 for the corresponding period in 1878, showing an increase of £35,050.

"Central Argentine.—The traffic receipts of four weeks to the 30th Nov., 1879, on 246½ miles, from the port of Rosario to Cordoba amounted to £13,014, and to £11,848 for the same period of 1878. The receipts from the 1st of January last to same date were £161,392 as against £144,080 in the corresponding period of 1878.

"East Argentine.—The traffic receipts for the week ending Dec. 7th, 1879, amounted to £686, and for the corresponding period of the preceding year to £151. Week ending December 14th, £422 against £414. The gross receipts from January 1st to date were £23,895, as compared with £17,831 in 1878."

We call the attention of merchants to the following extraordinary list of the rise in 6 months of iron and mining shares. It really shows a revival beyond all we expected or all we thought of one; stock has risen from 45 to 150. Verily Lord Beaconsfield was right in his judgment about trade revival. The further rise in iron and coal and mining shares has been so extraordinary during January that we append the following short table of movement—

Steel, Iron & Coal	Market Prices June 28	Dec. 27	Jan 29
Bilbao Iron Ore	17½	17	35
Charles Cammel & Co.	53	71	78

As there are many shareholders in Buenos Aires of the below mentioned Company, the following notice published in the London papers may be of interest here—

"London Platino Brazilian Telegraph. The following official notice was issued by this Company on Monday, Jan. 26th. London Platino Brazilian Telegraph Company, Limited (Companhia Telegraphica Platino Brazileira and the River Plate and Brazil Telegraph Company). Notice is hereby given, that the formalities necessary for the fusion of the Brazilian Company into the English one, and for the transfer of the profits and assets, have been completed. Holders of shares in the Companhia Telegraphica Platino Brazileira and in the River Plate and Brazil Telegraph Company are requested to send in their certificates after the 30th inst, for the purpose of receiving in exchange certificates of shares in the English Company. The dividend, which will be declared in May, will be paid upon shares in the English Company only, and transferres sending in transfers for registration will be required to sign a form of application, and will receive an allotment of shares in the English Company. The annual ordinary general meeting of the London Platino-Brazilian Telegraph Company, Limited, will be held in the month of May, in accordance with the Articles of Association."

With much pleasure we publish the following from the London papers received by the last mail:—

"Argentine Finance.—The Finance Minister's accounts for the year 1878 show a sound and improving state of affairs. It appears there has been an actual reduction of debt, while not only has the interest been paid, but the heavy sinking funds fully applied.

"The actual income has exceeded the estimated by $2,000,000, and the expenses of administration have been reduced.

"During 1878 the floating debt was lessened to the extent of $1,757,645 and by March, 1879, the reduction amounted to $7,542,464!

"The capitals of the loans are being rapidly reduced by means of the large sinking fund and we remain of opinion that the time is not distant when, if the Argentines keep out of war, they will be enabled to follow the course of America, and practically further reduce their remaining debt by paying the 6 per cent. off at par, and substituting a 5 per cent stock it is clear that the credit of the Argentines is fast becoming equal to the floating of a 5 per cent stock at par.

"That country has manfully overcome its great financial difficulties, has proved its sterling honesty, and as it is now prosperous why should not an Argentine 5 per cent stock command as much premium as the United States 4 per cent.?

"The only thing against the Argentines is an expectation that they will go to war. This is founded on the circumstance that they have been vigorously providing against that contingency. We think there is no fear of war, and that the chances of it have been lessened rather than increased by the measures alluded to."
